The Student Legal Forum
University of Virginia,
School of Law
Charlottesville, Virginia 22901

July 7, 1982

Mr. William J. Casey
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D. C. 20505

Dear Mr. Casey:

I am writing on behalf of The Student Legal Forum to invite you to speak before the law school and the university community during the 1982-83 year. Regarding a specific date, the Forum is very flexible so that we can accommodate your busy schedule.

The Student Legal Forum is an organization of approximately one hundred second- and third-year law students which provides a nonpartisan forum for the discussion of current topics of national importance. On the average, The Forum hosts twelve to fifteen speakers per year who appeal to a broad range of interests. Generally the speeches are attended by law students, professors, undergraduates, members of the Charlottesville community, and the news media. The Forum is the primary speaker organization serving the University.

Typically, The Forum hosts a cocktail and dinner party prior to the speech. The speeches are conducted on an informal basis with a question and answer period following the speaker's prepared remarks. A short reception usually follows each speech.

The Forum is unable to pay you an honorarium, but, of course, will pay for all travel expenses for you and your spouse, as well as accommodations at The Boar's Head Inn. Additionally, I would be happy to make all the necessary reservations.

Once you have had time to consider this invitation and check your schedule, I would appreciate it if you could contact me. If you write before the school year, please address the letter to my permanent address listed below; otherwise, you can reach me at law school through The Forum.

Sincerely,

President
